ONCE UPON A TIME.....

The hotel's history is captivating. Dating back to the beginning of the XIXth Century and telling the story of a love gift. When Count Spiridon Papadopoli, rich and brilliant entrepreneur, bought the entire area of the former convent of Santa Croce. As a love gift dedicated to his young wife Teresa Mosconi, Count "Spiro" wanted to build a summer residence with a large park. At the end, so called, "the Papadopoli Garden", has been planned and realized by architect and painter Francesco Bagnara, better known as the scenographer of the Teatro La Fenice.

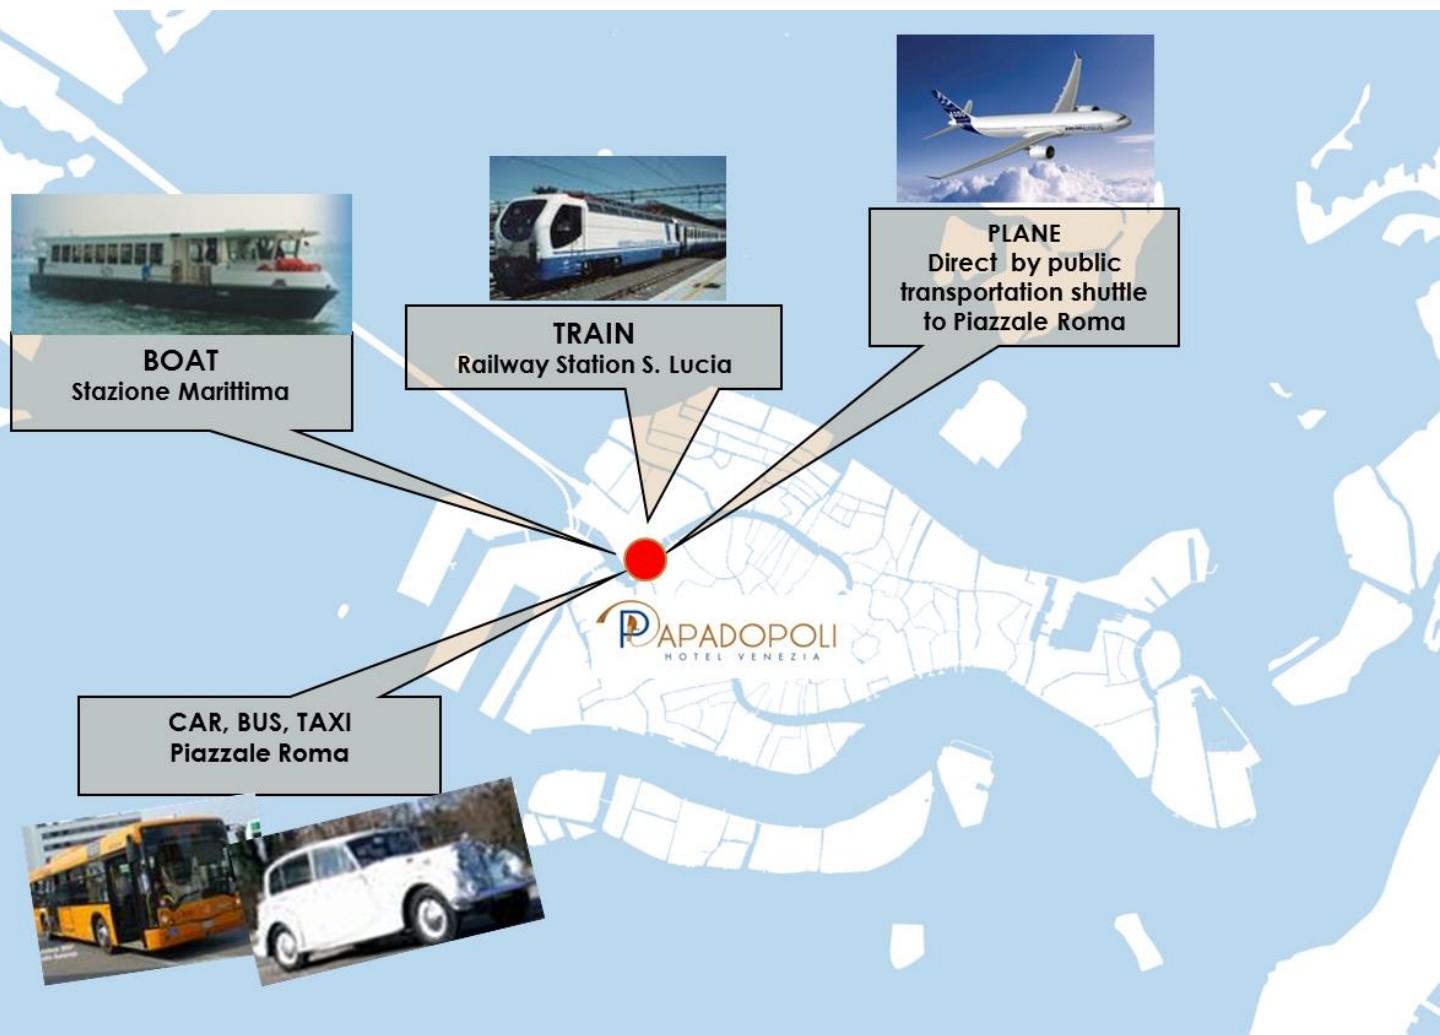

The palace Papadopoli-Foresti and its park soon became famous and privileged venue of the high society. During July and August, the romantic couple used to held extravagant parties for the nobility. During the creation of the Hotel Papadopoli Pietro Porcinai, a Tuscan garden architect involved in project, decided to reproduce a Winter Garden (today the restaurant), in order to offer an intelligent and sensitive tribute to the old count Papadopoli and restore the original dialog between Indoor and outdoor landscape.

ENVIABLE LOCATION

The other Venice among secret gardens and animated courtyards. Hotel Papadopoli Venezia stands on the Tolentini Canal, inside the Papadopoli Gardens: a truly enviable location, close to the Grand Canal and the Constitution Bridge, an artwork by the famous architect Calatrava, that connects the hotel with Piazzale Roma and Santa Lucia Railway Station.

Venice, access by land and sea

PERFECT LOCATION

FEW STEPS FROM ART & CULTURE

Culture, art and history of Venice are just a few steps away: Scuola Grande di San Rocco with the masterpieces of Tintoretto, Chiesa di Santa Maria Gloriosa dei Frari with Assunta, an opus by Tiziano and Scuola Grande dei Carmini, a testimony of Tiepolo pieces.

Rialto bridge and St Marks Square is between 15 and 25 minutes walk.
